

Introduction to Arizona Response to Intervention (RTI)

Day: Wednesday, November 18, 2009
Session: 9:15 – 10:30 am
Room: Sachem East

Presenters:

Mark Hammill – Mark.Hammill@azed.gov
Education Specialist
Arizona Department of Education

Session Description:

This presentation will demonstrate the need for change in our educational system. It will also outline and describe the critical elements of response to intervention at an elementary and secondary level. Participants leave with a firm understanding of the purposes and processes involved.

How the session addresses Innovation:

RTI is the current wave sweeping the country. Over half of the states are currently in the process of implementing RTI structures.

Presenter Information:

Mark Hammill, M.ED. has taught grades 6-8 in public schools for 20 years. He has been a vice principal, principal, district special education director and education specialist for the state of Oregon. For the past two years he has been working in the Arizona Department of Education as a Response to Intervention specialist, helping schools and districts implement the AZ RTI model.
